Yale Computer Society – an Undergraduate Organization

< About Us />

We are y/cs: the premier undergraduate tech org at Yale! Together, our growing team of 70+ student developers creates products with over 20,000 unique users to date. With six live products and two more to release in the 2025-2026 school year, we put our skills to use for the benefit of the entire Yale community.

< Products />

CourseTable - Course planning, ranking, and scheduling
Yalies - Privacy-first student directory and API
YaleIMs - Intramural schedules, scores, rankings & parlays
ymeets - Meeting scheduler with GCal integrations YaleClubs - Club directory with event info/promotion
y/labs - Job posting site for on-campus research

< Our Mission />

We aim to lower the barrier of development for students of all backgrounds. For experienced developers, we give the opportunity to work in a startup-like environment. For those new to coding, we teach best practices and the modern tools/frameworks. y/cs graduates are developers with full-stack expertise and an entrepreneurial mindset.

< Your Contribution />

Help from sponsors allows us to continue to grow and broaden our reach in the Yale community! Aside from the infrastructure costs of current and future products, sponsorship funds will power y/cs hackathons, demo days, speakers series, career sessions and more! Additionally, sponsorship funds feed into our y/cs Catalyst program: an annual, semester-long bootcamp with ~40 mentees to turn computer science newbies into budding full-stack developers.
